A tweet from Phil Spencer, Microsoft Gaming's CEO, read: "We are pleased to announce that Microsoft and @PlayStation have signed a binding agreement to keep Call of Duty on PlayStation following the acquisition of Activision Blizzard. We look forward to a future where players globally have more choice to play their favorite games."

In the United States, the FTC had argued the acquisition deal would hurt consumers whether they played video games on consoles or had subscriptions because Microsoft would have an incentive to shut out rivals like Sony Group.

However, Judge Jacqueline Scott Corley ruled on 11 June: "The FTC has not shown it is likely to succeed on its assertion the combined firm will probably pull Call of Duty from Sony PlayStation, or that its ownership of Activision content will substantially lessen competition in the video game library subscription and cloud gaming markets."

To address the FTC's concerns, Microsoft had agreed to license Call of Duty to rivals, including a 10-year contract with Nintendo, contingent on the merger closing.

On Sunday, Microsoft did not disclose the duration of the agreement with Sony.

União Europeia ameaça banir novo serviço do TikTok se a empresa não provar que protege as crianças

The European Union said it will ban a new service launched by TikTok in Europe, unless the company provides "convincing evidence" that children are safe. It is the first time that the EU has used its new powers to impose sanctions on media companies since the entry into force of the classic777 Digital Services Act (DSA) classic777 August of last year.

The commission gave TikTok until Wednesday to "present arguments classic777 classic777 defense, that the commission will evaluate carefully" before making a final decision on enforcement measures.

Preocupações com a segurança das crianças

Digital commissioner Thierry Breton said the service, called TikTok Lite, "did not prove" that it was classic777 conformity with obligations under the law, describing it as "toxic". The European commission said that the functionality of rewards will be suspended in the bloc if TikTok does not provide a satisfactory response to regulators' concerns about the impact on mental health.

Breton highlighted the fact that the app was launched in France and Spain this month, despite the classic777 course investigations into the company, under the DSA, since February, and other concerns about children's safety. He said that millions of children classic777 Europe use TikTok and that the commission "is making efforts to protect them".

Características da recompensa por assistir {sp}s

The new service allows users to earn rewards, such as Amazon vouchers, PayPal coupons or the coin Tiktok's Coins by completing "tasks", such as watching a {sp}s, liking content, following creators or inviting friends to join.

Breton said to journalists that TikTok Lite "can be as toxic and addictive as cigarettes". He said that, although the main app of TikTok offers entertainment to users "diversion and a sense of connection", it also "involves considerable risks for our children: dependence, anxiety, depression, eating disorders, low attention."
